

WEST VIRGINIA

ISSUE 3 - 2013

EDGE

SPECIAL REPORT

BOY SCOUT BOOM:
SUMMIT BECHTEL RESERVE MEANS
MILLIONS FOR STATE ECONOMY

BUILDING

TOMORROW'S LEADERS TODAY

YOUTH LEARN SKILLS IN WEST VIRGINIA

PUTTING WOOD WASTE TO WORK

“The National Youth Science Foundation camp staff fostered an environment of learning and sharing. That LESSON has stayed with me throughout my career, and remains one of the KEY LEADERSHIP values I use to this day.”

WES BUSH
CHAIRMAN, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER AND PRESIDENT
NORTHROP GRUMMAN CORP.

West Virginia Department of Commerce, Cabinet Secretary J. Keith Burdette
Capitol Complex, Bldg. 6, Room 525, Charleston, WV 25305 // 800-982-3386

Produced by Commerce Marketing & Communications // CommerceContactUs@wv.gov

Administration Rita Kee, Mona Dugas // Marketing Kim McHenry, Mel Hobbs, Andrew King, Steve Shaluta, Jr., Ron Snow //

Media Hoy Murphy, Andrea Bond, Leslie Fitzwater, Courtney Sisk, Catherine Zacchi, Hallie Sampson // Design Jessica Carl, Johanna Ellis, Andrew Stout, Barry Wooldridge

All content ©2012-2013 West Virginia Department of Commerce. WV EDGE design Johanna Ellis, Andrew Stout

WEST VIRGINIA

EDGE

02

Shaping Tomorrow's Visionaries

West Virginia offers opportunities to develop leadership skills for a lifetime.

12

Anticipating the Future

West Virginia prepares for the grand opening of the Boy Scout reserve.

22

Benefits of Being Green

Responsible management keeps West Virginia's forests healthy and productive.

38

River to Rail

An intermodal facility means faster shipping and jobs that are here to stay.

46

Economic Evolution

The business of bioscience emerges in West Virginia

56

Regional Updates

Read the latest from around the state

View an interactive version of WV Edge:
wvcommerce.org/edge

